Hello CMES students!

I hope the semester has started off well for each of you. As you get into the rhythm of the semester, be sure to give attention to your career planning—it is never too early to start!

I will be sending a monthly newsletter with helpful career planning tips and information on upcoming career events. This month is very exciting for our office, as we are hosting a large number of programs. Please see below for detailed information on the Career Fairs, several employer information sessions, and other workshops!

As always, as your career counselor, I am here for you. Please let me know how I can help you in reaching your career goals. Set up an appointment with me through UCareerLink or by email!

Best,

Career Pathways Science Panel

Sept. 10, 3:00pm in ASB 220

Hear from representatives from Chevron, Washakie Energy, ATK, ARUP Labs, Myriad Genetics, and Goldman Sachs about their professional path and how they got started within their organizations. This will no doubt be a great opportunity to ask questions, meet professionals, and get advice on starting a career with a science background. Light refreshments will be provided.
Employer Information Sessions

A number of employers including Peabody Energy, Kinross Gold, Arch Coal, Freeport McMoRan, and many others are hosting information sessions on campus for you to learn more about their organizations and even apply & interview for internships and full time positions right on campus. There may even be some free food at these events as well!

Here are a few, but log into UCareerLink to see a full list of the information sessions.

Fall Career Fairs

With over 200 employers attending, the Career Fairs are two of the best events for finding an internship or post-graduation opportunity. Click the following links to see who will be attending both the Fall 2014 Science and Engineering Career Fair and the Fall 2014 General Career Fair.
Career Fair Prep
When you attend the Career Fair, you want to be sure you are prepared and that your resume is in tip-top shape. Consider attending a Career Fair Prep Boot Camp workshop series or an individual workshop on various topics.

We Want YOU for Career Council!
Looking for a student group where you can spend time on your career and professional goals? Look no further than our new student group – the Career Services Student Council!

Once a month you’ll get special monthly programming in Career Services featuring guest speakers, networking opportunities, and potential employer visits during the year.
